I. General Information

Introduction

The Tri-COG Land Bank (TCLB) is a new public body corporate and politic established within Allegheny County. The purpose of the Land Bank is to address blight and transition abandoned properties to beneficial reuse using a unified, predictable, and transparent process in order to revitalize neighborhoods and strengthen the respective tax bases of its members. To date twenty-one (21) municipalities, six (6) school districts, and Allegheny County passed legislation to join and create the TCLB. Appendix A is a map of the participating communities. TCLB will gain another municipality in 2019, as Blawnox has joined the Land Bank

The TCLB is an opt-in land bank that requires participation of all three taxing jurisdictions for each parcel of land it acquires. Its governance structure includes advisory committees comprised of appointments by TCLB member municipalities and school district and Allegheny County. A nine-member Board of Directors (the 'Board') is charged with TCLB's governance. Appendix B represents the governance structure. TCLB staff will be the primary point of contact for the consultant. The consultant not be expected to speak with, attend or present at TCLB Board, or Advisory Committee meetings.

Background

The TCLB website lists properties as they are acquired on an ongoing basis at <https://public-tclb.epropertyplus.com/landmgmtpub/app/base/landing>. Please view the properties in the field, or online prior to submitting a proposal.

Most of the properties will be single family homes. However, some will be vacant land, multi-family, or properties zoned commercial. The TCLB expects to acquire 25-30 properties in 2019. This is expected to increase over time. Not all properties will need engineering services.

The respondent should demonstrate their knowledge, experience and ability with:

- The operation of local governmental units in Pennsylvania.

II. Scope

TCLB is requesting statements of qualifications from qualified professionals or firms to provide engineering services on an as-needed basis for projects located throughout the land bank footprint. The services could include, but are not limited to: conduct a needs assessment of the property, and generate a report with recommendations on items that will need remediation, and their estimated cost, surveys, work with TCLB building inspector on scope of work, submit plans as needed (E & S, grading, etc), oversee demolition, geotechnical work, and evaluate structural issues. It is the goal of the TCLB to select one or several consultants and to enter into contracts based on similar experiences and past projects.

The selected engineer or firm should be expected to work closely on the projects with the borough engineer, consulting architect if applicable, and building code officials.
